

PREFACE

Dear readers of the journal Evropsko zakonodavstvo,

Harmonisation of the domestic legislation with European Union law (acquis communautaire) is today a strategic state goal for the Republic of Serbia that requires the engagement of all social factors, including the institutions which professionally study European Union law. Endeavouring to make its contribution to broader efforts of the state Institute of International Politics and Economics has published the periodical Evropsko zakonodavstvo for more than ten years. This is the only journal in our country that in a methodological, scientific and acceptable way studies topics in the field of European Union law.

Attempting to cover the existing information gap and provide information on the central concepts of Community law in a more accessible way and in general, on the way the European Union operations this issue of the journal thematically deals with environment.

We take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Law School of Economics and Judiciary, Novi Sad, that has supported us in publishing this thematic issue. We are also very grateful to all faithful associates of Evropsko zakonodavstvo, whose contributions have helped raise the quality of the journal.
